Journey of Walt Disney's success:

Ans. Disney was a country boy. He had an extraordinary ability to think unbelievable thoughts. Walt was a complex man. It is very difficult to understand him especially for them who worked with him. He had a dream to make something which is to be again on this earth. He studied cartooning in Chicago and then started a little animated cartoon company in Kansas City but that flopped. Then he decided to try his luck in Hollywood at the age of 21. He borrowed some dollars from his uncle and the most successful journey began. Walt started a cartoon series named "Alice in Cartoonland". That was very hard time for Walt and his brother. They tried to make some money. The first series didn't make so many splashes. So, Walt decided to start a new series named "Oswald the Rabbit". It did better but some distributors made some trouble. Walt ignored all that and continued his work. He started a new series about a mouse named:

"Mickey". His journey for making Disneyland starts from here. Mickey got an unbelievable success. By this series Walt became a rich person. Walt's all dreams came true. Whatever he thought, he put all that in real. He got a great popularity by the TV shows, magazines etc. His Disneyland is the most popular place on the earth still. His most success was the result of his hard work and extraordinary ability to think. Being solvent for the first time he started a business where he gave the chance to other people. So, we can say that Walt was a very humble and helpful person. He always tried to make something different and Disneyland is the result of his great ability of genius.

◆ War – a destructive force :

People wonder why we should learn about war and why it's so important. War is something that cannot be avoided as long as humans continue to change and grow. There are many advantages and disadvantages of war. Advantages are few like peace, love, money or getting some land of other country. And disadvantages of war include death and injury of large numbers of people, loss of economic resources, destruction of the environment, loss of productivity and lasting damage to military personnel. Since humans as a whole are constantly changing their personalities, their way of life and their technological and social ways of life: it seems that as long as we continue to grow and change as humans, then there will always be war.

The disadvantage of war is that the people of the affected countries and their civilization are ruined through the war. The people become homeless and their economic condition becomes very critical. There is only one thing important at that time is to win the war so all the social things will be put aside by the authorities and so the social life of the people will be affected most. All the schools are closed in that emergency situation if the war is on their land so the children will remain uneducated and their future will be in the dark in that situation. There is somewhat like emergency declared and so all the social life of people of that country will be demolished by the government. People cannot express their ideas freely as there is no freedom of speech or no freedom of press.

The main disadvantage is trauma. There are many kinds of trauma that can scare you in a physical or mental way that will never make you the same as you were before. Each kind of trauma transforms the complete, basic human being into someone else, someone having parts missing from their psyche. War leads us to poverty; human loses and long lasting consequences to follow.

Every war gives the same result as one side winning and the other side losing. One side with pride and reward and the other side with loss. But both sides however have devastating consequences that follow war. Death, debt and poverty: some of the most major effects that follow war.

The rewards of the war can be great, but the loss is too great. War should be avoided in any way possible.

◆ The real freedom :

What is freedom? Is it an absolute right? We are born to become free. Freedom is defined from different aspects and according to different cultures, freedom varies from culture to another. Some define freedom as a natural right, the human being is born with. Everyone wants to be free and independent from others. Freedom is the right to do what one wants, live where he wants, eat what he wants, learn what he wants, and chooses the religion in which he believes, without ignoring or harming other's rights.

How can we live free? From my point of view, we can live free by respecting others' right to live free, too. We cannot ignore the rights of people with whom we live in the society. We cannot simply do what we want and ignore others. We must take other people right into consideration. The idea behind freedom is to be respectful and useful to our society. Freedom is important to everyone. When freedom is guaranteed, I can think freely, go where I want, say my opinion without fear from people who may not like my opinion. Where freedom of opinion is not guaranteed by the authority, the creativity of mind is killed and buried. Society is the largest and biggest loser because of this lack of creativity. But our practicing of freedom should never lead to threatening our national security.

Among the most humiliating ways to punish a human, is to deprive him of freedom. When one goes to jail, he is deprived from freedom, and so he is suffering, which is the point to punishment. Lacking freedom teaches the human lessons, he will make use of it. Freedom cannot be felt right. Unless one tastes lack of freedom, then only he will really appreciate freedom.

Freedom is not absolute. Freedom must be limited. You cannot just do what you like and say "I am a free man". You cannot kill, smuggle drugs or violate the laws and rules for freedom's sake. There should be respect to other people and their needs. Once, there were two men sitting side by side, and someone lifted his own hand and touched the others' nose, the latter complained, the former said "I am free", this was as a dismay to the latter who was ready with an appalling answer, and said "The freedom of your hand ends where the freedom of my nose begins". Yes, the freedom of anyone ends where the freedom of another one begins.

Parents must teach their youngsters to be free. They must plant in them the love for freedom. But their freedom must be watched, it should not be without limits. If so, we can censor their behavior without fear from friends of our children. Freedom in the teen years is very important for building a good character and stable personality. Teens want to hang around with friends, do whatever they like, or do not like. They want to experience everything. If they are given freedom with no limits, they can go down to the base and may be lost. So we must watch their behaviour, teach them to do what is right and leave what is wrong. Such supervision is, generally not considered a limit or constraint on freedom, it is important for protection of existence.

In summary, freedom is an innate right, humans are born with. Nothing should threaten our freedom, deprive us from our right. Also our right of freedom must never harm any other human being, directly or indirectly. We must respect freedom of everyone in the society. This way we can enjoy our freedom throughout our life.

67. In school assembly hall, you are going to deliver a speech on cleanliness. Draft a speech using the given points in about 100 words. [06]

Good morning to our honourable principal, respected teachers, and my fellow students.

Cleanliness plays a crucial role in everyone's life routine. Also, it is vital for a healthy body, mind, and soul. Cleanliness is a way of living a happy and healthy life in and around with a clean and tidy nature. It is the parents' responsibility to make their kids learn the benefits of cleanliness in our lives.

Then again, initially, everyone needs to keep their surroundings clean. Whether it be your hall, room, lawn, society, street, etc, you should keep it tidy. The characteristics should be developed in the children so that they can continue this habit throughout their life.

The importance of cleanliness should be taught to everyone. Initially, you can start by picking up solid waste from home and cleaning the floor. However, cleanliness is a good habit and reflects the inner beauty of an individual.
